

Main Law No : 5553

PART ONE
Purpose, Scope, Definitions

Purpose

ARTICLE 1- The purpose of this law hereby is to upgrade productivity and quality in plant production, to ensure quality assurance for seedlings, to make arrangements for the production and trade of seedlings, and to implement all necessary arrangements for restructuring and developing seed sector.

Scope

ARTICLE 2- This Law covers regulations concerning the registration of varieties and genetic resources belonging to field crops, vineyard and garden plants, forest plant species and propagation material of other plant species, the production of seedlings, certification, trade, market control, and institutional structures.

Definitions

ARTICLE 3- The terms contained in this Law hereby are as follows:

1- Sub-union: Shall mean according to activity areas, the professional institutions which have legal entity and public institution characteristic and were formed by plant breeders and seed producers and industrialists, sapling producers, seedling producers, seed producers, seed distributors, ornamental plant producers, and natural and legal persons dealing with issues concerning seed,

2- Research institute: shall mean public or private institutions which operate in the area of breeding, discovering, and developing plant varieties, their qualities and working procedures and principles are established by the Ministry.

3- Ministry: shall mean the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Affairs.

4- Union: shall mean the Turkish Union of Seed Producers.

5- Variety: shall mean the genetic structure contained in the botanical taxonomic section, which is characterized by the manifestation of certain characteristics generated by one or more genotypes, and differs from the other genotypes within the same species by at least one typical characteristic, and is recognized as a unit in its suitability for reproduction without modification of its distinguishing characteristics.

6- Variety list: shall mean the list in which varieties registered and traded are published.

7- Stability: shall mean relevant varieties characteristics remaining same after repeated production or at the end of certain propagation periods without changing

8- Difference: shall mean a variety's having at least one difference from the varieties well-known by everybody at the date of application and the characteristics constituting basis for the registration,

9- Genetic resource: shall mean the potential population featuring genetic differences and distinct characteristics in botanical structures, wild species of plants that are naturally present in a country or a region, and transition forms thereof, local varieties, custom-bred varieties, and certain materials of breeding with important characteristics from which genes needed by plant breeders and scientists are provided.

10- Breeding: shall mean the activities carried out for the purpose of ensuring protection over and the continuity of present varieties, improving their features through studying them, and studies carried out for the purpose of obtaining a variety or varieties by making use of genetic resources and stocks.

11- Breeder: shall mean the natural and legal persons who have bred up or discovered and developed a variety.

12- Log: shall mean the registries in which the varieties registered under the provisions of this Law hereby, and the materials falling in with the genetic resources are recorded.

13- Special areas of production: shall mean the area the boundaries of which are established by the Ministry in order to allow for the production of seedlings.

14- Standard seedling: shall mean the seed and reproduction materials placed on the market only by laboratory controls belonging to the varieties registered and in plant species determined by the Ministry.

15- Recommendation list: shall mean the list in which regions are found suitable for the growing of the registered varieties under applicable legislation.

16- Registration: shall mean registering in a log that plant varieties bred up or discovered and developed domestically or abroad are distinct, uniform and stable, and/or registering biological and technological characteristics, resistance against diseases and pests, and agricultural values by detecting.

17- Seed sector: shall mean a composed structure formed by public or private Unions which breed up plant varieties, and produce, grow, process, sell, distribute, supply for sale or distribution, import or export seedlings, or involve in other activities related to seed and the unions and societies formed by these Unions.

18- Seedling: shall mean the generative and vegetative plant parts such as seed, knob, seedling, sapling, cutting used for the reproduction of plants.

19- Seedling controller: shall mean the public or private persons which carries out the controls regarding seedling certification, collects samples, issues documents for these issues by making market controls.

20- Seedling control: shall mean the controlling of conformity to standards of the seedlings, of which the physical and biological characteristics have been assessed.

21- Seedling certification: shall mean the procedure of detecting and documenting that genetic, physical, biological, and sanitary-related figures are compatible with standards at the outcome of field and laboratory controls.

22- Seedling class: shall mean offspring order and generation followed during the production of seedling.

23- Seedling standard: shall mean the quality criteria which define the physical and biological qualities of the seedling.

24- Production permit: shall mean the temporary license issued until the variety is registered by detecting biological and technological characteristics with disease and pest resistance, and agricultural characteristics of plant varieties bred up or discovered and developed domestically or abroad.

25- Uniformity: During propagation of variety, it's being uniform or sufficiently homogenous considering other features other than variation expected depending upon the reproduction method.

PART TWO

Registration, Production, Certification, Trade and Market Inspection of Seedling

Registration

ARTICLE 4- Registering plant varieties, production permit, and standard seedling variety registration, and also registration of the genetic resources into a log are conducted by the Ministry.

Bred up varieties are registered by specifying their differences, uniformity and stability and/or biological, technological features, their agricultural values, and genetic resources are registered by determining their morphological and/or molecular characters. It is not the case for ornamental plants and flower seeds.

Issues concerning the registration of varieties belonging to agricultural plant species, their staying in the log, renewal of registration, removal from the log, providing continuity, preparing a catalogue are specified with a regulation.

Furthermore, principles and procedures concerning the registration, production permit and standard seedling variety registration are specified with a regulation according to the plant groups.

Seedling production

ARTICLE 5- The production of the seedlings belonging to only varieties registered shall be permitted by the Ministry determining their botanical and agricultural characteristics.

The characteristics of special production areas for growing seedlings, and the rules to be obeyed by the natural and legal persons who grow seedling and produce plant within the boundaries of their field shall be designated by the regulation.

Seedlings or crops not permitted by the Ministry can not be produced within the geographical boundaries of special seedling production areas.

Seedling sector is allowed to benefit from subsidies- and supports determined by the Ministry in order to improve the sector in compliance with European Union standards and international competition provided that sector makes investment in the country. Supporting principles and procedures are regulated through the communiqué issued by the Ministry.

Seedling certification

ARTICLE 6- The seedlings, which are obtained from varieties produced domestically, registered or received production permit according to ARTICLE 4, and which produced and grown according to the seedling classes, shall be subjected to certification.

The seedlings subjected to field and laboratory controls and certified in compliance with seedling standards shall be appropriately packed and labeled.

Seedling certification principles and the rules to be applied to packing and labeling shall be established with regulations according to plant groups.

Seedling Trade

ARTICLE 7- Domestically, the trade of seedlings belonging to only registered varieties shall be permitted.

These seedlings shall be supplied for trade in a manner that conforms to the qualities and standards established by the Ministry, certified or accepted to be registered in the log or standard seedling appropriately packed and labeled.

Importing and exporting seedlings shall be subject to the permission of the Ministry. The seedlings to be imported must conform to domestic standards. The procedures and principles relating to the importing and exporting of seedlings shall be established by the Ministry upon the opinions of relevant institutions and unions.

Market Inspection

ARTICLE 8- The natural and legal persons which grow, process, supply for sell, distribute, and sell seedlings shall be authorized and inspected by the Ministry. The procedures and principles thereabout shall be established through regulations.

The conformity of the supplied seedlings to standards, and the correctness of the label and packing information shall be controlled by the Ministry.

PART THREE Fee, Announcement, Indemnity and Penal Provisions

Fee

ARTICLE 9- The following fees are collected for the services given and the documents approved or issued:

- a) fee for application examination,
- b) fee for registration,
- c) fee for production license,
- d) fee for registration of standard seedling,
- e) fee for registration of genetic resources,
- f) fee for certification service,
 - fee for field controls,
 - fee for laboratory controls,
 - fee for documentation,
 - fee for label,
- g) fee for publication
- h) other fees.

These fees are determined and announced by the Ministry in January every year. Principles and producers concerning the fees are established by the regulation.

Announcement

ARTICLE 10- The varieties registered pursuant to the provisions of ARTICLE 4 hereof, and the varieties contained in the recommendation list shall be announced on the Bulletin to be published periodically by the Ministry.

Varieties removed from the log or recommendation list and information concerning regulations about seedling are published in the bulletin. Issues which will be on the Bulletin shall be designated by the Ministry.

Indemnity

ARTICLE 11- The natural or legal persons who have produced, sold, distributed, imported or have in other way made available on the market the defective seedling which has caused the loss shall, reserving the criminal state of their conduct, be responsible for recompensing joint damages. They may take recourse against each other according to their share in the loss.

The law case may be filed within 6 months as of the date of documenting the losses of the party that has incurred the losses and in any case within two years after the occurrence of the loss.

Penalty Provisions

ARTICLE 12- seedlings belonging to the varieties registered under ARTICLE 4 hereof;

a) without subjecting to certification process and obtaining the seedling analysis report after its compliance to standard seedling conditions is controlled,

b) as dropped below the minimum seedling standard established by the Ministry, or as derogated,

c) without packing or labeling in conformity with the regulation, or by using counterfeit packing or labels and faking names and brands, or by using remarks or signs, other than names and brands, that could be deceptive,

d) as fodder or food other than intended purposes, although it is prepared and processed in compliance with the regulation and applied insecticide,

e) through presenting as certified or controlled although it has not been subjected to certification or controlled,

f) through deceptive promotion or advertisement not pursuant to qualities in registering the variety,

Those who sell, prepare for sale and distribute or provided that trade activity exists, and that the amounts in question are not limited to one's own personal shall be sentenced to an administrative fine of ten thousands New Turkish Liras. In case of repetition of such crime, offenders shall also be banned from the trade of seedlings for a period of five year. Such seedlings shall be detained by the Ministry, and criminal court of peace shall resolve upon the confiscation of the seedlings. In case it is decided to remove the confiscated seedlings, all the costs belonging to offenders.

Persons and entities who grow, process, prepare for sale, distribute or sell seedlings without the permission of the Ministry shall be sentenced to an administrative fine of ten thousands New Turkish Liras. In case of repetition of such crime, fine shall be executed as two-fold. Such seedlings shall be detained by the Ministry, and criminal court of peace shall resolve upon the confiscation of the seedlings. In case it is decided to remove the confiscated seedlings, it shall be carried out by the Ministry all costs being borne by the offenders.

Those who import and export the seedlings for which the required permission has not been issued by the Ministry, and which have not been controlled and those who submit counterfeit documents and information or distorted the documents shall be sentenced to an administrative fine of twenty five thousands New Turkish Liras. In case of repetition of such crime, offenders shall also be banned from the trade of seedlings for a period of five year. Such seedlings shall be detained by the Ministry, and criminal court of peace shall resolve upon the confiscation of the seedlings. In case it is decided to remove the confiscated seedlings, it shall be carried out by the Ministry all costs being borne by the offenders.

Those who grow seedlings or plant products without adhering to rules within the boundaries of the special seedling production areas designated by the Ministry shall be sentenced to an administrative fine of three thousands New Turkish Liras. Such plantations shall be removed by the Ministry, all costs being borne by the producers, and shall, if necessary, be disposed.

The administrative fines mentioned in this ARTICLE shall be given by the highest civilian authority of that place. The decisions about the administrative fines shall be notified to whom it may concern in compliance with the provisions of Notification Law dated 11.2.1959 and numbered 7201. Any objection may be raised to the authorized administrative court at latest within seven days as of the date of notification. Objection does not interrupt the execution of the fine given by the administration. The decision upon the objection is certain. Objection shall be led to a conclusion at the earliest date by examining the documents in case the otherwise is not considered essential. The administrative fines given in accordance with this law shall be collected in compliance with the provisions of Law on Collection Procedures of Public Debts dated 21.7.1953 and numbered 6183.

Announcement of the Verdict

ARTICLE 13- In case of presence of a justifiable reason or interest of the party awarded by the verdict at the end of the court concerning the confiscation of seedlings, the party shall be eligible to demand that the verdict, which has now become definite, be announced in full or in short on a daily newspaper or through similar means, all costs being borne by the opposing party. The way and content of the announcement and its price to be designated in line with the amount of fine or the indemnity shall be specified in the decision.

PART FOUR Exception and Assignment of Power

Exception

ARTICLE 14- Registration is not obliged for seedlings or plant products imported and produced for exportation purpose. Plant products trade under this ARTICLE shall be arranged in accordance with procedures and principles determined by the Ministry. Moreover, exchange of seedlings between farmers, provided that no trade activity exists, and that the amounts in question are limited to one's own personal use, and also the seedlings that are used for trial and inspection purposes and the amount of which is determined by the Ministry shall be exempted from the scope of the provisions this ARTICLE.
